

Newlywed Game

HOW TO PLAY

What do you need?

- A list of around 20 questions (suggestions below are suitable for co-ed as well)
- Score sheets and pens/pencils (sample score cards are below)
- A timer (optional)

How do you play?

- Before the bridal shower, ask the groom a series of questions about the bride. Make sure to record his answers and keep them secret!
- At the bridal shower, explain the game rules. Each guest will predict how many answers they think the bride will match with the groom's responses.
- One by one, read the questions aloud. After each question, ask the bride to share her answer. Then, reveal what the groom answered. The host will tally the points based on how many matches the bride has.
- At the end of the game, the guest that guesses the number of correct matches wins.

Extra Tips

- Include a variety of questions to keep things lively. Mix personal questions with light-hearted ones to create an enjoyable atmosphere.
- Encourage the bride to share short anecdotes related to her answers. This can spark laughter and engage guests in discussions.
- Ensure the questions are appropriate for all guests. The aim is to have fun and celebrate the couple's love, so avoid overly personal or sensitive topics.
- Timing is Key: Keep the pace lively to maintain energy and excitement throughout the game.
